At Miller, we craft premium markerboards that create a visual impact and build collaboration with employees.

For 35 years we've been creating custom glass solutions for architects, contractors, schools, entertainment, co-working spaces and healthcare. We just happen to specialize in markerboards. We don't believe in flooding the market with poorly crafted products. We believe markerboards are tools of collaboration that create a visual impact. Our markerboards last a lifetime because we take the highest pride in the products we produce.
